From Santa Fe. INDEPENDENCE, July 2.—The Sant Fe mail, with dates of the 1 th, arrived to-day making the regular time. No rain had fallen in New Mexicothis year; crops almost entirely destroyed. There had never been such scarcity of forage and provisions as at present Corn brought almost any price Troops from Utah were expected about the last of July, and fears are entertained that when they do arrive they will alm .: me, and unless they are speedily chastised y United States troops they will soon tunke forage upon the settlements. But few Indians were seen on the road, some of whom were Kiowas. They examined the wagons closely, but as the mail party were well armed and seven in number, no altack was made. The props from Pawnce Fork, that went in pursuit of Indians, had not yet returned there. The numor of their barries from the before confined to the property of the propert having fought lacks confirmation. Mr. Clairborne, a delegate to Charleston and Baltimore, made a speech yesterday in tavor of Douglas, which was well received and at times enthusiastically cheered. Weather still oppressively hot and dry.
